Local UN Contest Winner --New York City Bound

Upland High School student, Doug Larson, left Sacramento for Chicago by chartered bus last weekend. From there he will visit Gettysburg, Ft. McHenry, Washington D.C., Philadelphia, Valley Forge and other places of interest before arriving at his final destination--New York City.

Larson was selected as one of 40 California students as winner of a United Nations Contest sponsored by the Sovereign Grand Lodge and International Association of Rebekah Assemblies of the Independent Order of Oddfellows.

The purpose of the UN pilgrimage for youth is to give young people the opportunity for study and observation of the United Nations in action, learning about behind the scene functioning and understanding the relationships of one's home community with the affairs of the world. Over 700 young people from throughout the U.S., Canada and Australia participate in the all expense paid trip each summer.

During their one-week stay in New York, all delegates will attend daily UN sessions, visit embassies, receive informational briefings from members of the UN staff, and interview various ambassadors of the member nations.

Upland Youth Booked For Police Assault

Thomas Kishen of Upland has been booked by Upland Police on suspicion of battery to a police officer. Kishen is suspected of driving his motorcycle across the Upland High School Football stadium during graduation ceremonies recently.

Police are still seeking youths suspected of wrestling Kishen from Upland Police Officer Bill Culbreth, who was off-duty and attending the graduation ceremonies. During the disruption school administrators attempted to continue with the ceremony as the cyclist rode back and forth across the north and west track for approximately 15 minutes.

von Zurich To Retire Here July 1

A farewell party will be held instead of the usually scheduled fencing class tonight at Magnolia Recreation Center. After 12 faithful years of fencing instruction George Gottfried Weidmann von Zurich has announced he will retire on July 1.

Weidmann, fondly known as the "Father of Fencing," is responsible for bringing the ancient art of fencing to Upland and has interested hundreds in the sport. He feels fencing has many joys for children as well as teaching them manners and grace and helping them keep out of trouble. Weidmann has toured the world twice and has lived in Europe, South America, Tahiti, Africa and many other places. He welcomes the thought of retiring in Upland with his wife and son and daughter.

Weidmann will officially hand over the three fencing weapons to Victor Moore tonight -- Moore will become the new head instructor who teaches foil and epee.

If any old fencing students or friends of Weidmann's would like to wish him good luck on his retirement, please come to Magnolia Center tonight at 6:30 p.m.

Policeman Of The Year Named

By PATRICIA REID
Of The News Staff

John A. Wessely, Upland Chief of Police, announced that Det. Gary S. Hart was selected as Police Officer of the Year in Upland for 1972. The honor is bestowed annually by the Independent Insurance Agents Association of San Bernardino County.

In a letter to the Insurance Association Wessely said he nominated Det. Hart this year for the following reasons:

"He's been a member of the Upland Police Department for nine years. In 1969 he was promoted to the rank of detective and has served in that capacity for the past 3 1/2 years."

"Det. Hart has served his community and his department in a number of ways. These accomplish-ishments have been achieved only through his sincere dedication to duty, his own initiative, and unselfish use of his own time."

Wessely listed the following examples:

Developed a burglary prevention program in which he goes into homes, schools, churches, service clubs and other civic organizations in an effort to make citizens aware of the burglary problem and what steps they can take to prevent crime.

Assisted in the organizing and serves as the advisor to the Upland Police Explorer Cadet Post. This program involves youths between the ages of 15 and 20 years in a law enforcement training program sponsored jointly by the police department and the Boy Scouts of America.

Early this year, after attending night classes on his own time for over nine years, Det. Hart was awarded a Bachelor of Science Degree in Administration of Justice at California State University at Long Beach.

Wessely concluded in the letter: "These accomplishments reflect Det. Hart's interest, not only in his department, but in the entire community."

POLICE OFFICER OF THE YEAR AWARD -- Detective Gary Hart of the Upland Police Department was honored Monday night by the Independent Insurance Agents Association as Police Officer of the Year in '72. Hart is pictured with a "Project Theft Guard" poster which is part of a burglary prevention program he developed in the city.

$8,545,123 Budget Adopted At Chaffey

A tentative budget of $8,545,123 with a tax rate estimated at about 4 cents less than the current one was adopted Tuesday by the Chaffey College Board of Trustees.

The budget and tax rate for the year ending is $7,415,409 at 61 1/4 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

The tax rate for the tentative budget is the biggest reduction since the college was moved from Ontario to Alta Loma in 1960. Included in the new budget is $465,000 in revenues to Chaffey contingent on the passage of Senate Bill 6, the proposed state financing for community colleges. This bill is equivalent to SB 90 for grades K through 12 which will be operative July 1.

The tentative budget for the year ahead encompasses a 5 1/2 percent wage increase for all contract (full time) employees as well as funding of study program development.

In this adjourned meeting, two employee groups opened the way for further salary negotiation under the prerogatives of the Winton Act.

The board rescinded its earlier approval of a 2 percent salary adjustment, conditional on the passage of SB 6, and designated a representative to meet and confer with both groups.

The board's representative will be assistant superintendent Kenneth C. Hinrichsen.

Involved in negotiations for an upward adjustment are an ad hoc committee of the Faculty Senate and representatives of the local chapter of CSEA. CSEA is the California School Employees Association.

The board reserved the right to make any further salary increase resulting from this meet and confer process retroactive to July 1, 1973.

The affirmed 5-1/2 percent cost of living salary hike amounts to $272,370 in the tentative budget.

Superintendent T. Stanley Warburton reported that representatives of the Chaffey Community College District will host those of Corona-Norco School District

July 5. This meeting is prior to a session of the Riverside County Committee on School District Reorganization. The committee is charged by law with placing all territories in Riverside County in a community college district by 1975.

Eco Assessment Report Attacked

Raymond L. Berry of Upland is expected to present in writing to the Upland Council Monday night his 10 questions concerning Environmental Assessment Report #7 which he and Planning Commission member Jerry L. Morris are appealing.

Upland Mayor Abner B. Halderman asked Berry to submit a written report giving all his points of opposition to the original report submitted by Claraboya Construction Co. for a proposed 23-unit subdivision (called Highpoint) the firm hopes to construct on West 24th Street. Halderman also requested that city engineer Fred Blanchard be present at the appeal hearing.

This is the first environmental report to be appealed in Upland. If the Council approves what is now the environmental report on the subdivision, the construction will be saved the costly and time-consuming task of having an environmental impact report made.

During the May 10 Council meeting a resolution to initiate condemnation proceedings for sewer and drainage purposes on property owned by Berry was put off calendar on the recommendation of the city attorney until the tentative tract plan and environmental assessment report were filed.

Morris (the youngest Planning Commissioner at 24 years old) filed the appeal to a 4-2 planning commission vote which approved waiving the required environmental impact report last month.

After considerable criticism by members of the Upland Council at the last meeting, Morris replied that he had no intention of resigning from the Planning Commission (as suggested by Councilman Max Hawkins) and would continue to appeal matters to the council whenever such action was appropriate.

A complete environmental report is needed on the project, Morris said, because the detailed report would clear up conflicting claims presented at the commission meeting.

At issue is the drainage pattern of the tract site. The construction company claimed in a questionnaire presented the planners that the property would generally drain to the southeast. But opponents to the project produced contour maps which they maintained demonstrated the site drained instead to the southwest.

Morris said it was rare for an Upland planner to appeal a commission decision to the city council, but said "such appeals are not only sanctioned by law, but practiced on a regular basis within many different levels of government."

He continued to say, "My actions were neither intended to demand the planning commission nor the planning department in any manner whatsoever. I fully believe that most people received it as it was offered; an appeal by a commissioner merely to insure the matter's fullest consideration before the city council."

In conclusion his letter states: "I understand Mr. Stapleton has recommended for the city, a balanced community of apartments, manufacturing and residential in his community study. Is he entirely omitting agriculture? The state environmental guidelines certainly recommend it, and include it in their recommendations."

Jim Dimmitt Named B.P.C. General Mgr.

A native of Iowa, Dimmitt is a long time resident of the Pomona Valley. He began his involvement with Donrey in 1967 when the company acquired the Ontario Daily Report.

For three years he was an assistant to the general manager at Bonita Publishing Co., before being transferred to the Las Vegas Review-Journal. He has worked there two and one-half years before his new assignment.

County Announces Plans For Revenue Funds Here

The County of San Bernardino has announced plans to expend an estimated total of $5,691,668 in Federal Revenue Sharing funds allocated for the first half of 1973.

The announcement was made in compliance with the State and Local Fiscal Assistance Act of 1972 and the funds are to be expended during the next two years.

Nancy E. Smith, Chairman of the Board of Supervisors, said the announcement is made to insure that local citizens remain aware of the activities of local government and more specifically how Revenue Sharing Funds are being spent.

Of the total, $1,061,060 is to be spent for operating-maintenance expenditures with $961,060 slated for public safety to fund the lease payment on Juvenile Hall and the Central Jail along with $100,000 for financial administration.

The remaining $4,630,608 is to be used for capital expenditures, however, it is not possible to identify specific building projects until the County's Site Utilization Study is complete.

Supervisor Smith noted that the announcement is based on administrative decisions and is made at this time, prior to budget hearings, in order to meet Federal requirements.

She said that as the Board of Supervisors adopts the final budget for fiscal 1973-74, specific projects will be determined within the allocation for capital expenditures.

Mrs. Smith pointed out, however, that the Revenue Sharing Funds are being used largely in ways which will avoid general fund expenditures affecting the property tax rate.

Graduation: A 50 Year Dream--Come True

By PATRICIA REID

Nearly every student looks forward to graduation... for one determined woman college graduation has been a lifelong dream.

With bursting pride and a throng of relatives on hand to celebrate, Mrs. Theresa Joselata McCryndle of Pomona received her Associate of Arts degree from Chaffey College Sunday. "For fifty years I've wanted to finish college," she explained. When she married in Wichita, Kansas, in 1923 she had only completed one half year of college and never had a chance to get her degree.

Hard work and a positive outlook seem to be two qualities that have helped Mrs. McCryndle accomplish all she has. In the past few years she's worked eight hours a day in the food services department of Pacific State Hospital in Pomona and taken night classes at Chaffey and Loma Linda University. She doesn't have any intention of stopping either -- more nutrition courses at Loma Linda are planned for the future.

Mrs. McCryndle has the distinction of being a full-blooded Indian. She's the granddaughter of Chief Thunderbolt from Anadarko, Okla. Her father was a Creek Indian from the famous "101 Ranch" in Ardmore, Okla. He was well known as a horseback rider and marksman, according to Mrs. McCryndle. Her mother was a Cherokee from Red Bird, Okla.

She's quick to show her family picture album with pictures of her "people" (as she calls them) -- five grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Her only son, W. R. Sneddon Sr., works for the Department of Corrections, Parole and Community Services Divisions, in San Diego. Mrs. McCryndle said he's been recognized for his excellent work in easing community tensions, especially among racial minorities.

"Family and friends have really encouraged me and helped with my schooling," she said. Her son can't believe her success -- not only did she successfully complete many college classes in the life sciences fields, but she managed to end up on the Honor Roll from Chaffey College and graduated with a B plus grade average. She's very excited about a graduation present from Erney Hayward, a brother in Fairbanks, Alaska -- a round trip ticket to come visit in Alaska. Hayward told her if she would earn her college degree he'd pay for the trip.

Mrs. McCryndle has worked in the nursing and food services areas since 1954 when she began working at Montevista Sanitarium in Montclair as a practical nurse. She transferred to Pacific State Hospital in '56 and worked in the food service department until Sept. 1972.

Mrs. McCryndle has always been one to get involved with helping other people also. She helped coordinate activities at Pomona South Side Teen Post several years ago and has helped solve teenager's problems and served as a "neighborhood nurse."

What's in store for the future? Armed with positive recommendations and college degrees she plans to have job interviews in Alaska and would like to be a dietitian for a hospital and work at planning special diets. Her secret? She said: "Faith and education won the battle. Determination and listening are also very important."

Hoot Man! Down Off The Rock Pile

By PATRICIA REID

While many high school students find sheer ecstasy in listening to the shrill sounds of rock music through stereo headsets, a simple country record of old Scotland with clear bagpipes is what Laurel McPherson listens to daily.

"I love Scottish drums and there's nothing more beautiful than the sound of bagpipes outdoors," enthusiastically remarked Scottish Miss McPherson, (You'd never guess her nationality by her name!)

Bagpipes have been 'calling' to Laurel since age 12 when she first got a whim to try the Highland Fling and enrolled in lessons through a General Dynamics Corp. program. For the past five years her love of the Scottish culture and dance has grown and grown. She tries to practice the vigorous dancing steps at least two hours per day. Her noticeably tight calves testify to many hours of flinging!

Now a senior at Upland High School, Miss McPherson officially became labeled as "professional" this year -- partly to do with a reclassification of age groups and skill levels by the United Scottish Societies Inc. of Southern California. She's been practicing the traditional Highland and country dancing for competition this Saturday in Santa Monica at the 41st Annual Highland Gathering and Games -- slated as the largest Scottish competition in the United States. Miss McPherson has entered this competition for the past four years as well as a similar one in Santa Rosa and other smaller competitions. Last year she won top honors in five separate dances and came home with the aggregate trophy in the 17-under division. Competing against the west's top Highland dancers, she was the only dancer to win all five categories in an age group. The dances included: Highland fling, sword dance, sean triubhas, Highland reel and sailor's hornpipe. It'll be hard to top that record this year and her competition at professional status will include all ages.

Now that she's a pro, she's started giving dancing lessons for the Upland Recreation Department -- Wednesdays at the community building of Upland Memorial Park from 6:30-8:30 p.m.

Laurel is a member of the United Scottish Societies of So. Calif. and the Southern California Highland Dancers Association. Last September she was honored as the "best dancer of the year" during the Scottish gathering in Santa Rosa. She's known as one of the ten best Highland dancers in the state and is asked to perform at many Scottish events.

She recently danced at the Renaissance Pleasure Faire in Agoura and has danced at Disneyland and the Miramar Hotel in Los Angeles. Last year she danced with seven of the best Scottish dancers in Southern California at the Robert Burns dinner on the Queen Mary. The group also performed at the Tartan Ball in Los Angeles.

She's had private dancing lessons from various instructors and is now a student of Kathy Hymes of Manhattan Beach, Miss Hymes is from Canada and is a judge of Highland dancing.

Laurel proudly displays tables full of medals and trophies she's won during her five year career as a Highland dancer. At present she's studying for a teacher's examination which will enable her to teach Highland dancing. She would like to become a judge of the artful dance eventually.

Laurel says the opportunity to travel and to meet new friends from Canada and all over the world has meant the most to her. She especially enjoyed a week long Scottish seminar held at the Banff School of Arts Complex in Banff, Canada. Her heart's desire is to visit Scotland of course and see her homeland where this dance originated.

Laurel will graduate from Upland High School next June and plans to major in child psychology at Chaffey College. Her real ambitions are all concerned with furthering her career in Highland dancing however... talking to her you get the idea she certainly doesn't plan to abandon her dancing as a mere pastime.

She said she really enjoys all kinds of folk dancing and frequently participates in dancing events for fun. Her range of dances is "open" meaning she can dance all varieties. She's excellent at the Irish jig - Scottish version, and has special costumes for each dance.

New Alphy's Restaurant To Open Sept. 15

The much discussed Alphy's family restaurant planned for Upland Square Shopping Center, Foothill Blvd. and San Antonio Ave., Upland, will open Sept. 15. The 5,500-square foot combination restaurant and coffee shop will have a seating capacity of 135 persons and will cost $300,000, according to Upland Square Properties of Beverly Hills, owners and developers of the project.

Alphy's, a division of Alpha Beta Acme Markets Inc. will be a 24-hour-a-day operation that's expected to employ 50 people from this area.

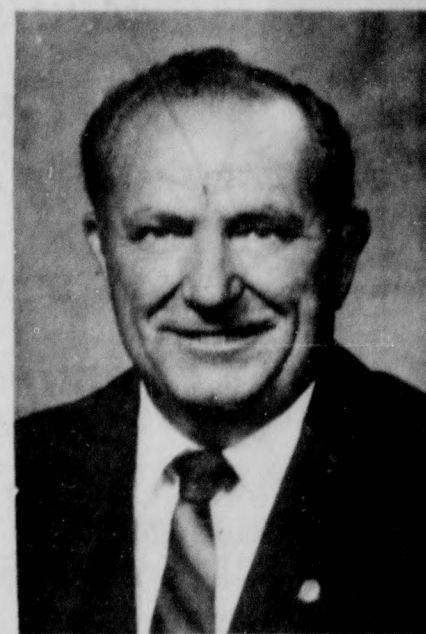

The Upland restaurant will be the 26th Alphy's in Southern California.

Upland Square Properties announced the planned construction of a 12,000-square foot addition to the Upland Square Shopping Center, which will give the center a total of 78,000 square feet.

Summer Pottery Class Slated By Rec Dept.

Sponsored by the Upland Recreation Department, summer Pottery and Ceramics classes start June 25 at the Potter's House located in the basement of the Upland First Presbyterian Church Euclid at 11th St.

The Ceramics classes are unique in that students can learn the basics of the craft from pouring greenware and making their own molds to final firing techniques. The program has recently expanded offering additional molds, more equipment, and enlarged facilities. The little store has tools and supplies available. Students pay a $10 tuition fee for each five weeks and purchase the necessary ceramics clay slip, and glazes. Students can pour an unlimited amount of greenware from the available molds, numbering 500 or more, and have greenware each class with value far exceeding the cost of each lesson. The majority of firings are included in the tuition fee.

The program is supervised by Wendy Atwell and instructors are Pam Tichenor, Paul Kalfell and Wendy Atwell.

Pottery - Basics in Hand slab and coil technique and wheel work are also available to those wishing an introduction to the pottery program. Classes for Ceramics are Thursdays, 9:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.; and 6:30-9:30 p.m. Minimum age 15 years old, with consent of instructor.

The program, different from the Ceramics classes in that pottery students create from scratch instead of using preformed plaster molds, aims at giving each individual, regardless of age, the widest possible experience with clay. The 7-12 age group will cover all basic techniques of forming clay, with emphasis on hand building methods, but plenty of opportunity given to use the potter's wheel.

Considerable emphasis is put on self-direction in the 13-17 age group, with demonstrations in response to class interests. Work will be done on the wheel, as well as with coil, slab and drape molds.

There are three adult classes, two for beginners Monday night and Wednesday morning and one for experienced students Wednesday night. Demonstrations in the beginning classes will focus on several basic hand building techniques as well as the fundamentals of the potter's wheel. The experienced class, Wednesday night, will focus on more advanced problems of wheel work, combinations of hand building methods, making clay, and more specialized firings such as raku and salt glazing. While demonstrations in these classes will be aimed either at beginners or experienced, adults in both Ceramics and Pottery are urged to use the Potter's House as often as possible regardless of the class in which they are registered.

Firings are normally done at the Potter's House, though some firing may be done in area kilns for raku and salt firings. Clay may be purchased at the class, basic tools are provided, and class glazes are available.

Etiwanda July 4th Picnic Set

Etiwandans are "gearing up" for their annual July 4 picnic, 1 p.m. to dusk at Etiwanda School, 6925 Etiwanda Ave. The yearly event is sponsored by the Etiwanda Service Club for residents of the entire community.

Don Hansen, service club president, said this picnic is a 50-year-old tradition and in the past they've featured greased pig contests...not this year--they're too dirty, said Hansen.

For the wives, there will be a contest testing their abilities at tossing rolling pins -- a traditional picnic event. For youngsters there will be competitive races--from sack racing to wheelbarrows. Another traditional event will take place on the Etiwanda School ballfield when softball games are played by fathers and sons and husbands and wives.

The picnic is a "no-host" family event and Etiwandans are urged to "bring their own families and food." Prizes donated by local merchants will be given away during the day.

At Mayfair

You save more on food

Uncle Sam helps us prove that food cost less at Mayfair last week than at 5 other top chains.

RETAIL FOOD PRICE COMPARISONS
BASED ON U.S. DEPT. OF LABOR, BUREAU OF LABOR STATISTICS ITEM LIST, IN MAYFAIR DISCOUNT AND IN OTHER STORES, EFFECTIVE JUNE 15 TO 16

Riverside-Desert area Competitor	No. of Items	Unit $ Mayfair	Total Competitor	Savings At Mayfair
Discount Chain A	80	48.37	49.20	.83
Discount Chain B	73	47.49	50.19	2.70
Discount Chain C	74	43.68	44.08	.40
Discount Chain D	75	48.01	49.69	1.68
Non-discount Chain E	81	52.55	56.47	3.92

We compared prices with major supermarket chains all around the area, again last week. We compared Mayfair's discount prices with "specials", "total discount" and most kinds of prices. Last week Mayfair's overall food prices were lower than five other top chains.

To make these comparisons more fair, we used Uncle Sam's list--the same list of 90 some items that the U.S. Department of Labor uses to measure food prices as part of the cost of living.

As shown the savings at Mayfair on this item list ranged from $.40 to $.92.

We don't just say "Food cost less at Mayfair." We mean it--and we prove it.

Communicate With 'Compassion'

Chaffey College's commencement speaker voiced Sunday the hope that education has brought to each graduate the gift "to communicate with compassion and precision."

Upland attorney Phyllis G. Knight credited education with standing "apart from other influences in our lives." Granted that education has done the job, Mrs. Knight noted:

"...Our education will have trained us to evaluate and appreciate those influences over which we have no control. It will help us to understand and sometimes to choose the experiences which later confront us."

The speaker affirmed that the basis for arriving at right decisions is "the learned ability to communicate with compassion and precision."

Mrs. Knight said that compassion is gleaned from "education in the broadest sense, an awareness not only of our own vocation, but of others." Compassion is "knowing who is talking as well as who is listening," she observed.

To the speaker, precision means "that one has learned well...his chosen courses and vocation and that one will use the knowledge gained..." to better "serve himself and his community. Unless we are knowledgeable...we cannot communicate."

Difficulties are more satisfactorily resolved by "the human ability and education to understand the problem precisely and the compassion to accomplish a just result," Mrs. Knight continued.

The speaker considered compassion and precision the prime factors in making "clear and excellent decisions within the chosen vocational field..."

She explained that these qualities enable a person "to confront each new situation in the broadest scope...to reach out...to the lives and feelings of those whom we meet along the way."

Mrs. Knight concluded by giving the college high marks for keying its education to community needs and the human condition.

The diplomas for the associate degree were presented by Herschel R. Glenn, chairman of the Board of Trustees here, Rev. Donald Bray of the Montclair Bethany Baptist Church was the speaker in the baccalaureate ceremonies preceding the commencement program.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER-- Upland attorney Phyllis G. Knight addressed the graduating class of Chaffey College last Sunday. She spoke about the many values of education and talked about compassion and communication particularly.

Supervisors To Study 73-74 Budget Proposal

The San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors has accepted for review a 1973-74 Proposed Budget totaling 189,167,054—an increase of four percent from the Final Budget for fiscal 1972-73.

County Administrative Officer Robert A. Covington, however, pointed out that the proposal has already been reduced in preliminary hearings from a total increase of $200 million requested by the County departments and that the portion of the budget which affects the property tax rate is up by a somewhat lower percentage than the overall package.

Covington explained that there is currently a disparity of $6,450,000 between the property tax revenue required to fund the Proposed Budget and the amount that would be produced by the 1972-73 tax rate of $3,0051 per $100 of assessed valuation, but pointed out that the funding gap would be closed substantially by such factors as the increasing assessed valuation, the County's remaining balance on June 30, salary savings due to personnel turnover and vacancies, along with the proposed adoption of a new fee schedule.

In addition, reductions in the budget itself may be anticipated when the Board of Supervisors holds its annual budget hearings July 11 and 12.

Covington said the County's financial position is also strengthened by anticipated increases in revenue from non-property tax sources, but did call attention to a major decrease of more than $3 million in State funding of the County Hospital due to last year's one-time payment designed to assist counties with the initial cost of the Medi-Cal Reform Act and compensate the County for State debts discovered from the previous year in the post-audit.

The largest decrease in the budget is a reduction of $1,244,523 in capital improvements made possible through the use of Federal Revenue Sharing Funds.

MORE TERMS AHEAD -- Herschel R. Glenn, left, chairman of the Chaffey College Board of Trustees, congratulates members Mrs. Georgia Mellon and Dr. Merle K. Cox after swearing them in for their next term starting July 1. Veteran trustees Mrs. Mellon and Dr. Cox were continued in office as a result of the April 17 election. It will be Mrs. Mellon's fourth term and Dr. Cox' third.

Community History

May 12, 1925

With approximately 115 cars of navelis yet to go forward through the O.K. Exchange and with a price range delivered from $5.50 to $7.50 per box, every packing house in this district is busy and a constant stream of new money is rolling into the town's banks.

Total bank clearings this morning were $759,007.08.

Last week 11,600 boxes of lemons were shipped from this district through the O.K. Exchange with a price range of from $6.50 to $7.35 per box, and every packing house in the district has a large quantity of lemons in storage.

With the close of the navel shipping season which will probably be around May 20th, the harvest of the Valencia crop will be under way. It is estimated that there approximately 250 cars of Valencia oranges in this district and it will probably be well into the month of July before the last of the Valencia crop will be on its way to eastern markets.

West End History Under Study Here

Teacher Ronald Dean Miller is presenting an educational series of lectures on "History of the West End" each Wednesday evening at 7:30 p.m. in the Garden Room of Ontario City Library through July 25.

Miller's a widely known authority on the history of the Old West and has authored numerous books on the subject—many of which are available to patrons of the Ontario library. He is a member of the board of the Malki Indian Museum Association, and is actively engaged in the affairs of California Indians.

Wednesday, July 11, he will speak on "Tragedy at Cucamonga"—and will outline the financial difficulties of the famous rancho, feelings among the Californios and the Americans, early feuds and murders.

"Boom of the 1880's," is scheduled for July 18. This talk outlines the colorful activities of the early land developers including the famous Chaffey brothers and their development of Ontario -- "The Model Colony."

The final presentation on July 25 outlines the famous floods, the arrival of the railroads and events and personalities of the day.

The series is free and is aimed at all age groups.

...o'er the land of the free!

Our flag symbolizes those ideals that the Declaration of Independence set forth so stirringly on that very first Fourth of July. Let us pledge ourselves anew to the cause of liberty as we celebrate Independence Day, 1973. Let's work to keep democracy alive so that the stars & stripes may always wave "o'er the land of the free and the home of the brave!"

Friend For Chuck Wagon Chefs

There is something special about man's call back to nature. Fresh air and open spaces give a man a chance to discover, deep in the heart of most male campers or hikers lies a secret desire to become a chuck wagon chef. Food always tastes better outdoors and the masculine cook will find avocados are one of his best friends.

California avocados add a spark to breakfast, lunch or dinner camping meals. They are nutritious, flavorful, easy to prepare and need no refrigeration while making your exit from civilization.

Portable avocados are happy travelers. The firm fruit from your market will soften while en route to the back country. Softening should take from about 2 to 3 days. If you are planning a short trip, have the fruit on hand several days before your trip and let them soften in your fruit bowl at home.

A camper's daily nutritional needs get the benefit of eleven essential vitamins and five vital minerals in the avocado. Experienced and inexperienced outdoorsmen alike will appreciate this good source of vitamin A, iron, vitamin E and potassium. One half of an average avocado contains only 132 calories, a small contribution to the total energy needs required for an active day in the wilderness.

You find this tropical fruit has an excellent satiety value. So leave snack items back at camp when hiking. A breakfast that includes avocados will hold your appetite through lunch.

You can add diced avocados to a bacon and egg breakfast. Simply scramble eggs until almost set, add the fruit and watch its green and yellow goodness blend with the eggs. If you like your breakfast big, try some diced avocado in canned corn beef hash.

Suddenly, the simplest food tastes delicious. Citrus fruits and avocado combinations are good anytime, morning, noon or night. This especially true when you can find fresh, sun-ripened fruit at produce stands along the way. And don't forget avocado as a spread on bread and toast. Its nutty flavor adds zip to white or whole wheat bread, English muffins and even camp-prepared biscuits.

For snack lovers, Guacamole dip can be prepared in your home kitchen and carted to campsite via the ice chest. Depending on space, you might even include an avocado sauce to be used for lunch or supper in your cooling unit. Add a little Worcestershire and hot pepper sauce to about one and one half cups milk and 1 medium cubed avocado, heat to blend and store in well marked refrigerator container. When lunch time comes, heat the sauce over butane stove or campfire and serve with canned salmon or tuna. Your camping companions will marvel at your newly acquired culinary skills.

Outdoor appetites can take unexpected turns and whims... your camp crew will be more open to new foods, or familiar foods prepared new ways. One avocado is a step away from gourmet shrimp cocktail. Prepared shrimp cocktail found in the refrigerator section of your market is delicious served in an avocado half shell. A quick can of tuna heated in cream of mushroom soup is equally good when served with sliced avocados and tomatoes. Old faithful canned chili finds diced or sliced avocado a happy partner.

Carry your chuck wagon experimentation a little farther. If you are traveling by camper, you will have room to include canned mushrooms, garbanzo beans, green or wax beans, tomatoes and a variety of other possible salad ingredients on your travels back to mother earth. From a past experience, you may be aware that lettuce will sometimes freeze in an ice chest. By placing it as far away from the ice as possible it can usually make the trip in fine fashion. Avocados and crisp lettuce combine well with the canned foods mentioned above. For those who are wise in the ways of edible mushrooms, you can plan a mushroom hunt and enjoy the bounty in a fresh salad.

This camping trip, chow time can mean dining in style with a little help from our fruit friend.

Old Fashioned Chocolate Cake With A New Twist!

Little children lick the bowls, teenagers go around the edge of the plate with their fingers and adults simply take a fingerful of frosting off the top: no one can resist a chocolate cake, especially if it's homemade!

Rich, moist chocolate cake, creamy cocoa filling on the inside and a light, luscious whipped cream frosting on the outside -- sounds delicious, doesn't it?

The truly outstanding feature of this cake is the liquid ingredient -- beer. Beer helps seal in moistness longer, adding at the same time a lightness and buoyancy that is unsurpassed by any other baking liquid. Remember, the alcohol evaporates in the baking process, so it most certainly can be served to the children.

OLD FASHIONED CHOCOLATE CAKE
3 squares (3 ozs.) unsweetened chocolate; 2 1/2 cups sifted flour;

1 tsp. salt; 1 tsp. baking soda; 3/4 cup shortening; 1 1/2 cups sugar; 4 eggs; 1 cup beer.

Preheat oven to 350°. Grease and lightly flour two 9" round layer cake pans.

Melt chocolate in saucepan; cool slightly. Sift together flour, salt and baking soda; set aside. Cream shortening and sugar in mixing bowl; beat in eggs, one at a time, until light and fluffy. Add flour mixture alternately with beer, beating well. Stir in chocolate. Pour batter into pans. Bake approximately 30-40 minutes or until cake tester comes out clean. Remove from pans and cool.

Spread Cocoa filling between layers and frost top and sides of cake with whipped cream.

COCOA FILLING
1 cup butter or margarine (softened), 3/4 cup confectioner's sugar, 1/2 cup unsweetened cocoa, 1 tsp. vanilla. Cream butter or margarine in small mixing bowl. Gradually beat in remaining ingredients until fluffy.

Protecting The Foods You Eat

Wholesome, pure, honestly labeled and advertised food is essential to good health. And when almost 38 cents out of every dollar is spent by California consumers on products covered by our State food and drug laws, the pennywise as well as the healthwise are justifiably concerned.

Sometimes, mislabeling of food or drugs affects our lives only incidentally. If we buy a product that doesn't work effectively, we just put it on a shelf and forget about it. At other times, mislabeling can have grave health implications.

For example, a cola drink labeled "no cyclamates" was consumed by a diabetic who believed it was sugar-free. A bottle labeled "no cyclamates" cannot contain cyclamates but may contain saccharin or sugar. The bottler failed to list the cola's all-sugar content, and the diabetic suffered a sugar reaction that could have been fatal. His physician alerted the State's Bureau of Food and Drug, which resulted in the destruction of 1,500 cases of the product.

In 1972, food and drug officials removed 7.9 million pounds of adulterated foods in California. Out of almost 5,000 inspections of food manufacturing plants that year came 85 criminal and civil citations and 233 administrative actions.

Two recent innovations have aided in directing our state's resources consumer protection in this area. Our new computerized data collection system predicts firms most likely to produce defective lots, and identifies target industries that fall below acceptable performance standards. Also, the new Health and Safety code gives inspectors authority to issue on-the-spot tickets to law violators.

All of our food and drug controls are designed to protect the health and safety of Californians. At a current annual cost of almost ten cents per person, this represents an outstanding investment in health protection.

Question: To Freeze Or Not To Freeze

"Most foods freeze well, but some foods can be real freezer failures," says University of California Home Advisor Sharon Higgins.

Fried foods lose crispness and have a warmed-over flavor after a short storage. Exceptions are French-fried potatoes and onion rings.

However, plain potatoes do not have good texture after they are frozen. They may also darken. The Los Angeles County Home Advisor suggests adding potatoes to soups and stews when they are defrosted and heated for serving.

Gravies tend to separate and curdle when thawed. Mrs. Higgins suggests freezing broth and making gravy just before serving.

"Use less fat when making gravy to be frozen and be sure to stir well when reheating. Fat may separate from gravy if too much is used in proportion to the starch or flour," said Mrs. Higgins.

Some mild sauces curdle and custard and cream pie fillings become watery and lumpy. Meringue and hard cooked egg whites become tough and rubbery. Meringue toughens and sticks to paper after a few days of freezing.

Foods that contain a lot of water such as lettuce and tomatoes lose their crisp texture, becoming sadly limp.

Freezing does not improve the quality of any foods. Even foods which freeze well may take as long to defrost as to cook. Some may lose flavor, texture, and color during the freezing process.

Other foods unsuitable for freezing include: radishes, green onions, unbaked cake batter, upside-down cake and creamed cottage cheese.

2 teaspoons cornstarch

Drain off 2/3 cup syrup from partially thawed raspberries. Set aside. Mix raspberries and sour cream into gelatin mixture. Chill until it begins to thicken. Stir and pour into a 5-cup mold. Chill until firm. Blend cornstarch into reserved raspberry syrup. Cook, stirring, until it boils and thickens. Chill. Unmold raspberry cream onto serving plate. Top with raspberry sauce. Makes 6 servings.

Cottage Cheese, Desert-Born

Legend has it that cottage cheese was discovered thousands of years ago by an Arab trader traveling through the desert on camel back. Stopping to eat, he found his animal skin bag of milk had turned to curds and a watery substance. And, it was tasteful.

Modern cottage cheese is a far cry from the early desert discovery. Yet its manufacture still requires heat, mixing and a small amount of rennet, all of which, by chance were combined in the Arab's discovery.

Today, according to Dairy Council of California, skimmed or defatted pasteurized milk, controlled amounts of lactic acid, rennet, and heat combine to coagulate the protein, called casein, into a soft curd. This curd is then cut into quarter-inch cubes for small curd cheese -- sometimes called country or farmers style -- or half-inch cubes for large curd cheese. Next, the whey is drained off, and after a cold wash, salt is added. For creamed cottage cheese, fresh cream or a mixture of cream and milk is included.

Baker's, pot or hoop cheese, commonly thought of as a form of cottage cheese, is curd, drained of whey without cooking, washing and sometimes not salting. Available only in some markets, this cheese is used chiefly in bakery products such as cheese cake, pie and pastries. It is also used for special diets.

"An average serving of cottage cheese gives the body nearly the same amount of animal protein as a medium serving of meat, fish or poultry -- and it's more economical," said Miss Sara Cina, Dairy Council nutrition consultant.

Dilute and heat condensed cream of celery soup; top with crumbled blue cheese.

Waxing curtain rods helps keep them from rusting.

Proteins are body builders making up the major part of muscle, blood, brain and body organs (not counting water). Without protein, the body cannot reproduce or repair itself.

Most of the protein in three quarts of defatted milk is used to make up each pound, or pint, of cottage cheese. Other nutrients present are vitamin A, thiamin, riboflavin and calcium.

"Few foods are better than cottage cheese for providing necessary nutrients with such a low calorie count," said Miss Cina. "A four-ounce serving of cottage cheese gives the body 15 grams of protein with only 120 calories. Uncreamed cottage cheese supplies the body with 19 grams of protein and only 98 calories."

Because of its adaptability to a wide variety of uses, cottage cheese is one of the most frequently used dairy foods. It can be used for casseroles and main dishes, appetizers, cheesecakes, sandwich fillings and for a variety of salads. Its high moisture content makes it a perishable food which must be kept refrigerated and consumed within a relatively short time.

For a cottage cheese information sheet, write Dairy Council of California, Box 28 B-11, Sacramento 95801.

Dairy Council of California is a statewide nutrition education and research organization maintaining a staff of 25 nutrition consultants who regularly conduct workshops in nutrition education throughout the state.

If you want to frost a cake before freezing, use an uncooked frosting. It will freeze better than the cooked kind.

Use foil to wrap rolls or biscuits that are going into the freezer, then heat right in the foil.

Beef Savories: Moderately Priced

This grand array of appetizing, man pleasing foods—beef on a skewer—dried beef appetizers, patio flank steak roll, beef empanadas—might well show up at the same party if there is going to be a buffet or snack-board arrangement of foods. Chances are however, that for most occasions, one of these delicious beef ideas will suffice for your menu.

These savory recipes were developed in the kitchens of the California Beef Council to help you with moderate cost menu plans for summer parties. Starting with the heartiest, the flank steak roll is one which must be done ahead. It is expertly seasoned, rolled and tied and roasted to medium rare. Smells fantastically good as it roasts and is delicious to eat hot. For best flavor however, wrap and chill before slicing. It makes excellent sandwiches so provide an assortment of breads and seasoned butters and let each person make his own. Served with potato salad or corn on the cob, it's become a most satisfying entree.

For the skewered beef appetizers use lean beef chuck or any cut of beef round. Marinate in the flavorful orange and lemon juice mixture before skewering and grilling. The spicy dipping sauce is a surprisingly interesting combination of ingredients including peanut butter.

The poppy seed empanadas are filled with a zesty ground beef mixture. They're easy to make, freeze well and reheat perfectly. And for the very simplest of all idea, try the dried beef horseradish roll up. Go ahead, introduce a new beef idea now and then. Your menus will become much more interesting.

PATIO FLANK STEAK ROLL
1 beef flank steak, about 1 1/2 pounds

1/2 teaspoon lemon pepper
1/4 teaspoon allspice
1 teaspoon garlic salt
3/4 cup chopped green onion
1/4 cup dry sherry
2 tablespoons butter

Score one side of steak. Sprinkle with pepper, allspice, garlic salt and green onion. Roll steak tightly, starting from one long edge. Tie with string. Place in 13x9x2-inch baking pan with sherry and butter. Bake in 375° oven about 45 minutes. After first 20 minutes, baste occasionally with pan juices. Wrap in foil. Chill. Slice crosswise. Makes 4 or more servings. MENU SUGGESTION: Take this one along on a picnic and slice thick or thin when it's time to dine. To vary the recipe, use the same technique for roasting but use your own choice of herbs and other seasonings.

BEEF 'N HORSE RADISH ROLL UPS

1 (5-ounce) jar sliced dried beef
1 (8-ounce) package cream cheese
1 tablespoon prepared horseradish

Arrange pieces of dried beef into 2x4-inch strips. Blend cream cheese with horseradish. Place a rounded teaspoon of filling at the end of each beef strip and roll. Fasten with picks. Chill until serving time. Makes 1 1/2 to 2 dozen appetizers.

SKEWERED BEEF APPETIZERS

2 pounds lean beef chuck or top round steak

1 1/2 cups orange juice
Juice of 1 lemon
3 clove garlic
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1 1/2 tablespoons soy sauce
1/8 teaspoon salt
Peanut Dipping Sauce
Cut beef into 3/4-inch chunks.

Marinate 2 hours in mixture of orange and lemon juices, garlic, sugar, soy sauce and salt. Thread 2 or 3 pieces beef on each skewer. Broil in oven or over charcoal to desired doneness. Serve with Peanut Dipping Sauce. Makes 4 dozen appetizers.

PEANUT DIPPING SAUCE: Combine 1 tablespoon butter, 6 tablespoons peanut butter, 2 tablespoons soy sauce, 1 tablespoon lemon juice and 1 teaspoon finely crushed red pepper. Simmer 15 minutes. Blend in 3/4 cup table cream.

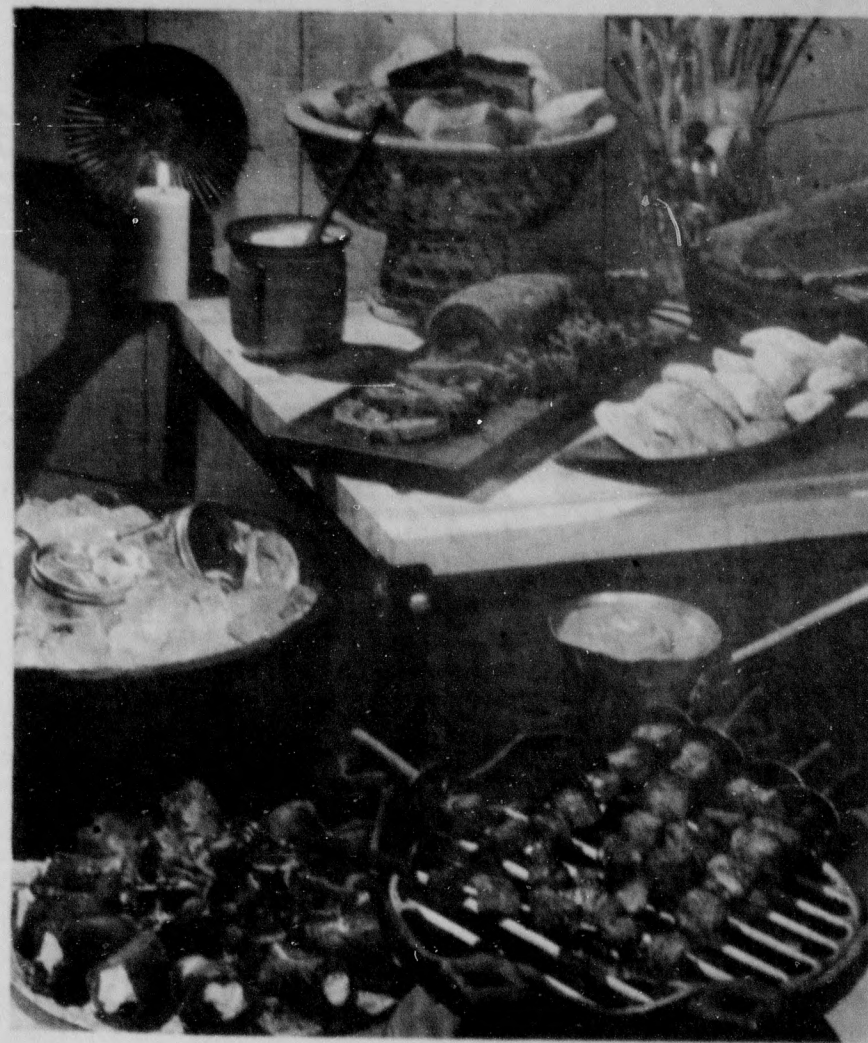

MENU SUGGESTIONS: Be sure to cook these cuts of beef no more than medium rare or it may toughen the fibers. Makes a good entree too. The dipping sauce could be an optional. This orange and lemon marinade may be used with steaks or roasts too.

SPICY BEEF EMPANADAS
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
1 tablespoon butter
1/2 pound lean ground beef

2 tablespoons tomato paste
1/2 cup golden raisins
1/4 cup chopped pimiento
2 stuffed olives
2 teaspoons chopped green chili peppers

1 teaspoon sugar
1/8 teaspoon salt
Pastry for 2 crust pie
2 tablespoons poppy seeds
Sauté onions in butter until soft. Add beef and brown lightly. Add remaining ingredients. Simmer 2 minutes. Roll dough to 1/8-inch thickness. Sprinkle with poppy seeds and roll into dough. Cut into 2 1/2-inch circles. Put 1 teaspoon of filling in center of each pastry circle. Fold circles in half to form crescent. Moistened edges and press together with fork. Bake in 425° oven 12 to 15 minutes or until golden.

Makes about 3 dozen.
MENU SUGGESTION: Highly seasoned hors d'oeuvres. To make them less spicy cut down or leave out the amount of green chili pepper.

Pop Warner's Registration Starts June 30

Football is just around the corner for Upland Pop Warners. The Upland Pop Warner Football organization has announced registration dates for the upcoming season.

The first registration period will be June 30, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. The second registration will be July 21 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. The location is the west parking lot of Upland High School.

Registration fees and birth certificates will not be required, but will be collected during the first night of practice, Aug. 1.

This year, a new division consisting of boys eight to nine years of age and weighing 40 to 65 pounds has been established in the Mt. Baldy Conference. This is the tiny tot division.

In the tiny tot programs, according to the Pop Warner organization, the boys learn the basic fundamentals of football while maintaining a closer relationship with the coaching staff under playing conditions.

The three other divisions are: The junior peewee, for ages 8-10, 50-80 pounds; the peewee division, ages 10-12, 65-95 pounds; and the midget division, ages 11-13, 90-120 pounds.

Junior College To Open Pool

Registration for the second semester of swimming instruction at Chaffey College from July 2 until July 13 will be from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. on June 29.

Hours of instruction at the swimming pool will be 8:15-9 a.m., 10:15-11 and 11:15-12 noon. The fee is $4.

Recreational swimming in the big pool will be from 12:30-5:30 p.m. six days a week and 7-9 each Wednesday evening until Aug. 26.

General admission is 50 cents and cap rental 15 cents. Persons under age 10 will be admitted for 25 cents.

Upland Girls In Invitational

Upland Swim Club AAU swimmers Janice Robledo and Stacy White improved their times in the Cypress Younger Age Group A-B Invitational held last weekend at Cypress, according to their coach, Jess Staples.

Each girl swam in seven "B" events at the invitational.

According to Staples, "Janice and Stacy had fairly good competition and they stayed in the top ten all the way."

He said that was "pretty good," considering that most of the other swimmers have been swimming in a competitive level for two to four years and Stacy and Janice have been swimming for only four to five months.

As a team, Staples predicts that Upland will repeat as league champions. They have captured the title for the last five years.

The league contains teams from Montclair, Pomona, Alta Loma, Chino and Upland.

Walk Through Garden Of The Rising Sun

The European and American approach to gardens is to provide trees and shrubs as a background for flowering plants. A garden without color would be almost unthinkable. Not so in the Japanese garden. Trees and shrubs are used as individual specimens and may represent a natural scene reminiscent of a family trip into the country, or a visit to a famous shrine.

The Japanese use props of gravel, stone and water as foils for trees and shrubs, which leads to an effect that remains stable through every season of the year. The water may be a quiet pool, or a trickling stream. There may be no water at all -- and, instead, rocks and stones arranged to represent a dried-up stream.

There are many approaches one may take to create a Japanese garden; whichever is taken, there are several trees and shrubs that are natural for the situation.

The Japanese Maple is a small tree with a variety of garden uses. It may be used to shade a bank of Azaleas, stand by itself as the focal point of the garden, or be featured in a container. "Thread-leaf" varieties are lower-growing types with gracefully-spreading branches. With both types, there is a choice of red or green foliage. Leaves fall in winter to reveal eye-appealing silhouettes of slender branches.

Pines are almost essential to a Japanese garden. The Japanese Black Pine is popular, so is the Austrian Black Pine--as well as the dwarf Mugho Pine.

An airy touch is added by planting clumps of Heavenly Bamboo (Nandina). Slender branches support compound leaves of soft green, bronzy or pinkish when young. A compact variety remains lower and is an excellent choice where a modest grower is needed, advises the California Association of Nurserymen.

CARPET OF COLOR -- Trailing Gazanias are as beautiful as they are durable in the landscape. The silvery-green foliage fills in nicely and is adorned with a profusion of yellow flowers indicated in photo months and months, throughout the year. The sun-lovers form a carpet of color that lends itself to contemporary California landscapes.

Greenhouse Or Apartment?

The interest in growing plants indoors is a modern day phenomenon. It also points-up the fact that homes, condominiums, apartments, mobile homes, dormitory rooms and business offices aren't designed as a greenhouse so the growing of certain plants indoors may become a challenge.

Anybody can grow plants indoors if a few factors are taken into consideration: temperature, moisture and light. Most limiting factor for plant growth is light. Temperature can be a factor, depending upon the season and individual dwelling.

Where results have not fulfilled expectations, the trick is to select plants that will tolerate low humidity and a high degree of heat--plants that also require low light and little care. And, which will thrive as long as moisture is provided.

This may seem like an impossible set of standards, but there are several plants which should prosper under less than perfect situations.

Aspidistra (Cast Iron Plant) is a rich green, leafy specimen which grows in an expanding clump and reaches 18 inches in height.

Two vining plants that want some natural light, and will serve as living wall decorations are Grape Ivy and Cissus Antartica, often sold as Kangaroo Vine.

A taller choice is known as Corn Plant (Dracaena fragrans 'Massangeana'). Don't let the botanical name deter you; when shopping for this one, just look for plants with cornlike leaves. "Warneckii" is the striped version, either of these upright growers is suitable.

Sansevieria may be hard to pronounce (San-su-very-uh). But there's nothing difficult about growing the different ones available. One has a rosette of fleshy, succulent leaves, the other is an erect-growing and taller variety.

Don't overlook the opportunities afforded by two favorite landscape shrubs: Pittosporum tobira and Popocarpus makii. Both excel in garden situations and can often be utilized in low-light situations, indoors.

Before rushing out to buy, the California Association of Nurserymen recommends you view these plants first-hand, discuss your needs with a professional, then decide which are the most pleasing for your indoor environment.

PLASTIC SHEETS

... PLACED BETWEEN ROWS OF FLOWERS AND COVERED WITH COLORFUL GRAVEL KEEP WEEDS DOWN ALL SUMMER AND PROVIDE ATTRACTIVE BED COVERING.

They Call It A Carpet Of Color

One of the nicest things about gardening in the Golden State is being able to grow ground covers that bloom as brightly as annuals. These carpets of color are often unique to California; they succumb to the cold winters in eastern gardens.

A case in point is Ivy Geranium. To the envy of easterners, months of color are to be enjoyed from spring to fall from these free-flowering favorites. As a ground cover, Ivy Geraniums fill-in fairly fast. The colors of the blooms include delicate shadings of pink, rose, red and lavender. It is named, not for its spreading growth, but for the ivy character of its leaves.

Perhaps the brightest of all ground covers is Ice Plant. There are a score, and more, forms of Ice Plant. Local nurseries, especially during the blooming season, will have a large selection of individual varieties from which to choose. Colors range from white through yellow, orange, pink, red, lavender and purple. Foliages vary also--there are bold, succulent-like forms, as well as those which feature finely-textured "leaves."

Parkways, border situations, accent plantings, and sunny slopes are landscape uses for Ice Plant. In bloom, the appearance is a sensational sea of color. Fresh in many Californians' memories is the fact that this past winter's freeze wiped-out many Ice Plant plantings. It should be remembered, as well, that in certain regions the December - January temperatures were the lowest in 38 years.

The Gazania family is a colorful one and its many members provide almost year-round color. Certain varieties form spreading mounds of daisy-like flowers in shades of orange, yellow, copper, burgundy, red and white.

Foliages of the individual Gazanias differ. This is most notable in the Trailing Gazanias, which produce blooms of yellow and orange. The foliage is a striking grey-green. It trails nicely and serves as a distinctive carpet in foreground plantings, borders, near the driveway or on slopes and banks. Gazanias must have lots of sun in order to fulfill their capability of providing what seems like a never-ending show of color.

Plants You Like To Be Close To--And Vice Versa

Now that summer is in full swing, patio plants and plants for the outdoor living area take on a new importance. This month, the garden is to be lived in, rather than looked at, hence it is a good time to add some appealing plants for close-up enjoyment.

Well-groomed cleanliness is an important consideration for plants you share the patio with, and the several different kinds of Dwarf Citrus combine this quality with lush evergreen foliage, fragrant blooms and colorful, edible fruit. Dwarf Meyer Lemon, for instance, features fruit and blooms at the same time. Plant one in a tub on the patio and the fragrance will draw people to it.

Another fragrant charmer is the Gardenia. With foliage as glossy-green as a Camellia, and fragrant white flowers, it makes a beautiful conversation piece for the July patio. Give Gardenias a rich acid soil, plenty of sun (except in hot valley areas) and water and feed generously. Other fragrant plants to consider are the profuse blooming Jasmine vines and Scented Leaf Geraniums.

Once you've followed your nose to the outdoor living area, you'll enjoy it twice as much if you have bright flowers spilling from hanging baskets and pots--as well as groupings of containers on the ground. Nurseries have ready-to-hang creations and already-blooming flowering choices that provide immediate color.

Tuberous Begonias, Fuchsias, Transvaal Daisies, Marguerites, Hibiscus, and a host of other summer-blooming performers are available in nursery containers--for planting in the garden or in pots for up-close enjoyment.

Don't overlook the pleasure and beauty you'll get from choice foliage plants. The light, airy Heavenly Bamboo, distinctive Podocarpus, and the glossy Wheeler's Dwarf Pittosporum, are three candidates for patio areas. Pots of Herbs or Succulents, in varying sizes, make easy-to-grow conversation pieces.

They Live In The Shade And Like It

Plants of a shade-loving nature are relatively plentiful in California nurseries, but there is a world of difference in the degree of shade they will tolerate. Some so-called "shade" plants will sulk if given too much shade, while others adapt to whatever amount you give them. The trick is to match-up the plant and the situation: to find the right plant for the shady place you want to plant it.

Everyone should be aware that all plants like some light. But, there are a few plants which do well in areas where the shade is dense. Fatsyhedera is one you can count on in darker locations. It is a hybrid offspring of two unlikely parents -- Ivy and Aralia -- and is a semi-vine. The appealing green foliage and interestingly shaped leaves are evergreen attractions that draw admiring glances.

Aspidistra is called Cast Iron Plant. It's durable--even is darkened den, indoors, or in the shade garden. The long, rich green leaves form an interesting accent in plantings where little light penetrates.

There are other plants which grow under such conditions, but many others tend to grow rangy; their foliage lacks luster and they obviously need more light.

Fuchsias are shade lovers, but a common tendency, reports the California Association of Nurserymen, is to give them too much shade. Result is a shortage of bloom and generally a sub-par performance. Fuchsias live and thrive in shade, but they need enough light or keep their foliage full and fresh. In the proper location, Fuchsias will give you profuse bloom from late spring to late fall.

Clivia is another flowering choice for the shade garden. Strap-like leaves add interest to the garden; lovely orange blooms add floral beauty under less-than-perfect conditions. Hydrangeas, Tuberous Begonias and Cyclamen are other flowering delights to consider for shaded areas.

Ferns and Aralias are good choices for creating special effects in landscape where shade prevails. For something special, check the golden-flecked Aucuba, Gold Dust Plant. Its glossy, evergreen appearance is appreciated, not only for the coloration, but for the dense, full growth habit of the plant, as well.

TRY THESE IN TUBS
Nineteenth century Europeans would turn green with envy today, if they could see how California gardeners are featuring a fantastic number of plants in an equally-fantastic array of containers.

Growing plants in distinctive containers was considered a new fashion in gardening, as recent as the 1950's, though Europeans popularized it over a century ago.

Plants in containers make delightful decorations and serve as accessories throughout the garden, porch, patio and deck. They are charming combinations at the entryway, to greet guests and add sparkle to the appearance of the home. Thanks to the portability of plants in containers, it's possible to create new garden effects in minutes.

Gardener's Checklist

1. Cut Delphiniums back to about eight inches after the first bloom. Feed and water them to encourage quick growth for a second round of bloom.
2. This is a good time to plant Hydrangeas in that semi-shady garden spot.
3. Grow your own corsages. Glamorous Gardenias are available in nursery containers; the exquisite white blossoms of the plants exude sweet fragrance--and add to the delight of summer's evening.
4. Feed, water and pinch Chrysanthemums regularly to maintain vigorous, sturdy plants.
5. For a longer harvest in the vegetable garden, make new sowings of carrots, radishes, green onions, beets, beans, summer-type squash and cucumbers.

NEW DIMENSION -- Raphiolepis varieties add a delightful dimension to the landscape; they bloom for weeks and weeks, and certain ones, such as the profuse-blooming pink Springtime shown in photo are available in nurseries, pre-started as espaliers. This means they can be used in limited space, such as a narrow planter, espaliered against a wall, where the year-round beauty of the plant can be enjoyed up-close.

'Love Affair' Results In $38,000 College Grant Here

A love affair which had its origins in a newspaper office on the Pomona College campus more than 35 years ago has resulted in a gift of $38,000 to the college from the estates of the two deceased writers. News of the gift was announced by Richard T. Nimmons, vice president of the college, after he had received a copy of the will of the late Frances M. Reed, a political reporter-columist for the Pomona Progress-Bulletin, who died May 30, 1971, after a 12-year fight with cancer. She was 57. Mrs. Reed's husband, Edward, a veteran reporter and editor for several Southern California newspapers, including the Los Angeles Times, the Riverside Enterprise, the Tustin News and the Claremont Courier, died in 1958 at the age of 47 while being prepared for surgery in a San Diego area hospital.

Mr. Reed was a 1935 graduate of Pomona College and his wife was a member of the class of 1937. A native of Clifton, Ariz., Mr. Reed was a graduate of Riverside High School. His wife, a native of Los Angeles, attended Los Angeles City College before transferring to Pomona.

The group of students making the selection of Mrs. Reed included Dana Adams Schmidt, a world famous correspondent for

The New York Times, and George M. Martin, a veteran newscaster for KNX Radio in Los Angeles, both 1937 graduates of Pomona College.

The third member of the selection committee was Mr. Nimmons, a former New York City public relations executive and the Pomona College vice president who was informed of the gift from Mrs. Reed. College records also reveal that Mrs. Reed's successor as managing editor of Student Life was Verne Orr, Director of Finance for the State of California, also a 1937 graduate of Pomona College.

During her career on the Pomona Progress-Bulletin, Mrs. Reed served as a political reporter and was the author of a column, "Politics Today." Shortly after her death, members of the Women's Democratic Club of Pomona Valley renamed their organization the Frances Reed Democratic Club in her honor. Although a final determination is yet to be made by college officials as to how Mrs. Reed's gift will be used, Mr. Nimmons said consideration was being given to establishing the Ed and Frances Reed Scholarship Fund for deserving Pomona

College students who are planning a career in journalism.

'Number 1' Professor Named

A former metallurgist turned statistician and computer expert is this year's winner of the Outstanding Professor Award at California State University, Fullerton.

Dr. Herbert C. Rutemiller, professor of quantitative methods, was recognized during the university's 14th annual commencement at Anaheim Stadium June 9 for his professional performance and meritorious service to the university. The presentation was made by Dr. Miles D. McCarthy, vice president for academic affairs.

Rutemiller, 47, joined the faculty of Cal State Fullerton in 1966. He was the quantitative methods department's first chairman and served in that post for four years.

During his tenure at Cal State, Rutemiller has published eight articles on statistical estimation theory. He is currently working with the National Center for Higher Education on the development of a plan and procedures for determining costs and benefits of higher education, and is participating in a state-funded pilot project on this subject using the School of Business Administration and Economics at Cal State as a model.

Long active in faculty and university activities, Rutemiller has served as chairman of the university personnel committee, is beginning his fifth year on the university Faculty Council, and is a member of a special statewide committee to plan for instructional usage of computers in The California State University and Colleges.

Rutemiller, a graduate of the Case Institute of Technology with a doctorate in statistics from Western Reserve University, has put his metallurgical experience to practical use, holding three patents for aluminum alloys. He served for 12 years as a research metallurgist and director of the analytical laboratory for the Aluminum Company of America.

As Fullerton's outstanding professor Rutemiller received an honorarium and plaque provided by the Friends of the State University. He also automatically was placed in nomination for two $1,000 awards that are presented each year by the trustees of The California State University and Colleges.

Rutemiller's selection was recommended to President L. Donald Shields by a seven-member faculty committee chaired by Dr. G. Boring Mathieu, professor of French and German.

The Economy: Two Months=Two Years

The pattern of consumer spending over the next six to nine months will largely determine the overall pattern of economic activity in the United States over the next two years, says a Bank of America economic forecast.

"The longer the current boom in consumer durables continues, the more severe will be the correction in 1974," says the current forecast, "Focus on the U.S. Economy: the Next 18 Months."

The big question facing the economy is whether the rapid expansion during the first half of 1973 can be slowed to more sustainable rates without causing an actual downturn in economic activity. The report indicates that it can.

"We believe a sustainable full-employment growth path will be achieved without a full-blown recession," the bank's economists say. "However, real output growth could be close to zero or even negative in one quarter in late 1973 or early 1974."

The rate of inflation is expected to be higher in both 1973 and 1974 than in 1972, but it should decrease from present levels later this year and early next. Among factors affecting inflation most recently were a growing demand for a restricted supply of food products, especially meat, and a booming demand for industrial materials and other goods just when Phase II economic controls were removed.

The recent rate of growth of consumer durable goods and residential construction has been greater than the long-term demand for them, and a slowing in these sectors is expected.

This slowing will account for most of the expected correction in the economy.

Business investment in new plants and equipment will continue to increase at a rate of nearly 15 per cent a year during 1973 and 1974. Complying with new environmental regulations and increasing production capacity will keep business capital investment strong through 1974.

Government spending at the federal level is expected to increase at about 5 per cent a year and at the state and local level at about 12 per cent a year. This assumes, the report says, that federal spending, especially for defense, will be stringently held down.

The rate of increase in bank credit is expected to slow, but an absence of money for lending is not anticipated. Interest rates, however, are expected to rise somewhat and then level out.

Corporate profits should continue to increase through 1974, but at rates below the increase during the first quarter of 1973. There will be continued pressure on business to increase efficiency.

Summer Warning Issued

"The months of July and August should have warning flags on them for the motorist for two reasons, both linked to the tradition in America that summertime is vacation time." This caution was issued by V. Orvid Shields, president of Western Insurance Information Service (WIIIS) and a regional vice president of State Farm Insurance Company.

Shields pointed out that more pleasure travel is planned for summer, be it long weekends or extensive journeys. Despite the threat of a reduced gasoline supply, automobile travel will remain on many family calendars. With increased mileage, motor vehicle accidents increase. July and August are rivaled only by October for the doubtful distinction of being the most hazardous on the highways. In 1971, the most recent year with full statistical data, 5,470 motor vehicle deaths were recorded in July and 5,100 in August. This is compared with the low months of January and February, which in the same year, showed 4,000 and 3,390 deaths, respectively.

Shields pointed out that the gasoline shortage actually can present another hazard to the motorist -- the danger of running low on fuel in remote areas, and being at the mercy of the unknown passersby.

The second major problem of the summer months, Shields said, is automobile theft. As 63 percent of the car thieves are under 18, summer is a critical time as those months find the youngsters with more time on their hands for "joyriding" in an unauthorized borrowed car.

While law enforcement bodies have an outstanding record of recovering stolen cars -- 84 percent -- the accident rate is 200 times that of normal experience, which finds the recovered vehicle most often damaged. If the auto hasn't been wrecked, then it usually has been stripped of salable parts.

'Creative Dramatics' Class Offered Here

Teachers, recreation leaders, social workers, church leaders -- all who work with young people in any capacity -- may learn dramatic techniques designed to increase self-confidence in their students and develop communication skills through a summer class offered at Cal State, San Bernardino.

"Creative Dramatics" is an intensive three-week course, which carries five quarter units of credit and meets Mondays through Thursdays, 8 a.m. to 11:50 a.m., from Aug. 1 to 16. Instructor is Dr. Sue Rudisill, assistant professor of drama.

Summer session courses are open to any interested adult. Fee is $18 a unit. Registration date is June 18, although enrollment may be accepted until Aug. 1 with a $5 late registration fee. Further information may be obtained by calling the Office of Continuing Education.

Story theatre, mime and puppetry will also be discussed and demonstrated as techniques for encouraging students' growth in both artistic and interpersonal sensitivity.

After the initial sessions, boys and girls from local schools will attend, providing the college students with actual experience using the new methods.

Last year 12 Chicano and 12 black junior high and high school students, selected by Operation Second Chance, participated in the course. According to Dr. Rudisill, the techniques proved valuable in developing friendship between the two groups.

"At first they segregated themselves according to race, and showed some tension, but by the end of the three weeks, they were all friends."

Participants in the course will learn through doing, Dr. Rudisill says. After the first sessions in which they participate themselves, they will become leaders in games chosen to be fun, reassuring, barrier-dissolving.

They are called leaders rather than teachers, according to Professor Rudisill, because they are guides to help the students develop their own creativity.

The leaders themselves often profit personally from the class activities, she says.

"Even college students suffer from the almost universal fear of looking foolish and the fear of being wrong."

A untied classroom is a major goal of the teaching techniques.

We're not giving away lemurs this week.

L is for lemur.

Lemurs are primates which are found only on the island of Madagascar today. Many species of these primitive animals occur, bearing striking and beautiful color combinations. They range from the size of a mouse to the size of a small dog, but lemurs as large as a man may have existed as recently as 500 years ago. Lemurs live in trees, feeding on fruit and insects, and are excellent jumpers. A favorite pastime of certain species is sunning, which is accomplished with arms outstretched and head inclined backward, in an attitude of "sun worshipping."

4-H Girls Strive For Honors

4-H Youth Club girls vied for top honors at the recent San Bernardino County 4-H Dress Revue, "Nostalgia" held in the Alta Loma High School auditorium. According to Jacquie Murphy, 4-H Youth Advisor for the Agricultural Extension Service, University of California, 150 attended the evening performance to watch the young ladies model outfits they had made themselves.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Abacherli, Ontario, were the donors of silver bud vases to the four county winners. Wylda Sharp, Monte Vista 4-H Youth Club leader and chairman for the event, and Donna Witt, Bloomington Boosters, co-chairman, made the presentations to the trophy winners and medalists.

The winners of this year's Hi 4-H revue were Misses Linda Hoogeveen, Oro Grande 4-H Youth Club; Theresa Nyenhuis, Mt. View 4-H Youth Club; and Lucy Valois, Chino Busy Farmers 4-H Youth Club. This trio will represent San Bernardino County in this year's State 4-H Dress Revue, University of California, Riverside Campus, Aug. 20-24. Pam Bromley, Chino Busy Farmers 4-H Youth Club members, was awarded top honors in the junior division.

Linda Hoogeveen, 18, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hoogeveen of Oro Grande. Linda was chosen for the second year and modeled a battle jacket and pleated skirt ensemble. The navy blue and white plaid outfit was designed with three front pleats in the skirt with a contrasting yoke and sleeves in the jacket. The jacket was banded at the bottom and buttoned down the front. To coordinate her outfit, a white polyester knit blouse was selected.

Theresa Nyenhuis, the 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Nyenhuis of Chino, selected plaid fabrics for a skirt and jacket in a soft pastel pink and blue with the bodice of the dress in the blue. Her sleeveless dress with pleated skirt was topped with a fully lined jacket. Pink matching accessories complemented the outfit.

Lucy Valois, the 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marcel Valois of Chino, modeled a soft jersey print floor-length dress with a predominating black background. The high fitted bodice and long flared skirt, was accented by front buttons, pointed white collar, long sleeves and matching cuffs reminiscent of the classic look of the thirties. A black velveteen blazer-style jacket was designed with notched collar and large lapels, full-length sleeves and a back belt.

Pam Bromley, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Bromley of Chino, was selected as the county winner in the junior division. She wore a floor-length princess line dress of pastel blue. A shoulder ruffle of white cotton fabric completed the finished look of the dress.

In addition to the county winner, those named as medalists in the Hi 4-H division were: Kathy Both, Dunlap Dues; Bernadette Mendiondo, Chino Busy Farmers; Jean Wollman, Monte Vista; Denise Calla, Oro Grande; and Janet Erickson, Yucca Valley 4-H Youth Clubs.

County junior medalists were: Belinda and Debbie Greene, Apple Valley Suzie Q's; Cheryl Cohu, Bear Valley; Pam Bromley, Marie Camino; Janet Harrison, Diane Kasbergen, Gabriela Parente and Cindy Vanderpool, Chino Busy Farmers; Joyce Bridgeford, Chino Hills; Cyndee Both, Dunlap Dues; Keely Gates, Hesperia High-lighters; Annette Oldenburg, Veronica Poteat and Bonnie Rich, Highlanders; Marlys Houts, Hinkley; Evelyn DeBoer, Melinda Haringa and Trudy Nyenhuis, Mt. View; Debbie Dick, Redlands; Patti Stine, San Bernardino; and Kay Erickson, Yucca Valley 4-H Clubs.

DO-WAH -- "Freddie My Love," one of the hit songs in the new 50's musical comedy "Grease" at the Shubert Theatre in Century City, is sung by Marilu Henner and the "pink ladies."

Q: Is collecting commemorative medallions a profitable hobby?

A: While these medallions can increase in value, they have no guaranteed value other than their bullion weight, if they contain gold. Unlike the circulating coins some numismatists collect, they have no monetary face value. In 20 years you might have a collector's item which could demand a high price or just a set of beautiful medallions whose value lies mainly in the enjoyment they bring you. The only thing you can be reasonably certain of is that the metal from which the medallions are made should increase in value. Ultimately you may realize a small profit.

'Grease' Role, Type Casting

Mike Clifford, who portrays "Teen Angel," the prototype of all rock 'n' roll singers, in the 50s musical comedy hit, "Grease," now playing a limited engagement at the Shubert Theatre in Century City, is an example of perfect type-casting.

Performances are 8:30 p.m. nightly, Tuesdays through Saturdays, with a 7:30 p.m. show on Sundays and 2:30 p.m. matinees on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

Mail orders may be obtained by sending a check and self-addressed envelope to: Shubert Theatre, 2020 Avenue of the Stars, Century City, Ca. 90067. For theatre party and group information call Grace Melton (213) 553-9000.

Vicki Lawrence, Bobby Russell At Knott's

The bright lights of the John Wayne Theatre will be shining on Vicki Lawrence as she sings her latest hit "The Night The Lights Went Out in Georgia."

The popular young singer will be headlining Knott's Berry Farm's theatre July 1-6 along with her songwriter husband, Bobby Russell.

Preceding them on June 30 will be the Jimmy Wakely Show. Wakely, a veteran of 33 years of country and western music, is out of the same mold as cowboy heroes Gene Autrey and Roy Rogers. In fact, it was on Autrey's radio and television shows where Wakely gained his fame.

He will star in three shows Saturday evening at 6:30, 8:30 and 10:30 p.m.

Miss Lawrence, a co-star on CBS-TV's "Carol Burnett Show," has prepared herself all her life to be a top-rate singer and actress. In school she studied ballet, tap and modern dance, learned to play nine musical instruments and sang with two folk music groups. And she still found time to excel as a student at UCLA.

A remarkable look-alike to comedy star Carol Burnett, Vicki was introduced to Miss Burnett by a newspaper writer. She subsequently was given the part of her television sister.

With the release of her Bell Records single, "The Night The Lights Went Out in Georgia," Vicki Lawrence has won stardom in a brand new field. Now her musical career is growing with the release of her second recording, "He Did With Me."

The name of Vicki's songwriter husband, Bobby Russell, isn't exactly a household word, but surely the titles of his songs are. Songs like "Honey" and "Little Green Apples" are the work of the 29-year-old genius. These two recordings alone have sold more than 5 million copies.

Writing hit songs is nothing new to Russell. His hits date back to 1964 when he wrote "The Joker Went Wild" for Gary Lewis and the Playboys. He wrote his wife's two current recordings, and his own hit single of a year ago, "Saturday Morning Confusion." Russell has just recently signed a contract with Columbia Records as a songwriter-performer.

Bobby's passion is his farm just outside Nashville, Tenn., where he and Vicki raise a stable of prize thoroughbred horses. This farm has served as the inspiration and provided the solitude for lyrics that have become household words.

Show times for Vicki Lawrence and Bobby Russell are 6:30, 8:30 and 10:30 p.m. Sunday and Friday, and 8 and 10:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

Also appearing in the John Wayne Theatre daily Monday through Saturday are the Hear and Now, with shows at noon and 3 p.m. each day.

Rod Culpepper and the Boot Hill Express provide country music in the Wagon Camp every evening except Fridays when square dancing takes over.

Knott's is open daily from 8 a.m. to midnight. It is located on Beach Boulevard in Buena Park just two miles south of the Santa Ana Freeway.

HRD May Go To Private Employment Agencies

The Department of Human Resources Development announced today that it is exploring the possibility of using private employment agencies as a source of jobs for unemployment insurance claimants and for employable mothers on welfare.

HRD's Director Dwight Geduldig said the Department is testing approximately 100 private employment agencies in four counties (San Diego, Los Angeles, Orange and San Francisco) to discover whether their combined efforts can increase job opportunities for these HRD registrants.

"This is the second part of a study we began in 1971," Geduldig said. We tried then to compare the effectiveness of HRD and private employment agencies in a competitive way, but there were so many variables that the results were inconclusive. This time, the emphasis is on cooperation, not competition."

The new test involves two different kinds of unemployed individuals, Geduldig said. Private employment agencies in San Diego county are working with HRD field offices to find jobs for unemployment insurance claimants, male and female, who have recently been laid off and who are generally experienced and "job ready." In Los Angeles, Orange and San Francisco counties, the agencies cooperating with HRD are attempting to find jobs for employable mothers on welfare who have registered with HRD for job training.

The test began May 1 and will end August 31, Geduldig said. An independent consultant will evaluate the results.

Those placed in jobs through private employment agencies will be compared with similar HRD placements in terms of waiting time before finding a job, job duration, wages and other relevant data.

Another important measure, Geduldig added, will be the effectiveness of private employment agencies as a contact with employers who do not normally list job orders with HRD.

The agency's placement fee will be paid by HRD from a special federal fund. The fee will be based on the beginning monthly salary or hourly wage rate received by the applicant, Geduldig said.

No fee will be paid for jobs lasting less than 30 days. A portion of the fee will be paid for jobs lasting 30 to 89 days. For jobs lasting 90 days or more, a full fee of 50 percent of the first month's wages will be paid where the pay is less than $2.00 an hour. For jobs paying $2.00 an hour or more, the fee will be 70 percent of the first month's wages.

The private employment agencies will earn a bonus equal to 20 percent of the monthly pay if the wage rate is $2.00 an hour or more and employment is continuous with the same employer for at least six months, Geduldig said.

New United Way Head Named

Tom Maginn, president of the West End United Way, today announced that Dale B. Eckrote has been named Campaign Chairman for the West End United Way 1973/74 annual fund raising campaign.

Eckrote, division manager of General Telephone, has been actively involved for many years in a number of West End Community activities. He is currently President of the Ontario Rotary Club, a member of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce, a member of the Friends of Ontario International Airport, a Director of the Y.M.C.A., and a member of the State Republican Central Committee and the San Bernardino County Republican Central Committee.

Eckrote has held many positions in the West End United Way Campaign organization including that of Campaign Vice-Chairman and Commerce and Industry Chairman.

"We look forward to the best campaign results ever," stated Maginn, "under the leadership of such an experienced person as Dale Eckrote."

"I am particularly interested in the West End United Way and their having a successful campaign," said Mr. Eckrote. I know how important to the 29 agencies that the United Way supports and how important the services provided by those agencies are to the people in the West End. I know, serving on the board of just one of those agencies, that everyone, in all walks of life are affected by the quality of the services provided by all 29 agencies, and it is my goal to see that we put together the best Campaign Committee of the top leadership in the West End to raise the money needed by those agencies so they can provide our communities with the best in their particular services."

Eckrote noted that he will be announcing his Campaign Cabinet appointments as he recruits them in anticipation of a Sept. 18th Campaign Kick-Off.

'Youth Expression '73' July 14-15

"Youth Expression '73," the second annual festival of the arts for Los Angeles County high school students, will be held July 14 and 15 under the sponsorship of the Los Angeles County Museum of Art. Creative work by hundreds of student artists, expressed through a variety of visual and performing media, may be seen by the public that weekend at the Museum of Art on Wilshire Boulevard and in Hancock Park.

Allen Bassing, Museum staff member, who is coordinating the festival, says the number of students participating this year is greater than last year at this same time. Students in both the performing and visual arts categories may still enter by calling Bassing at the Museum (937-4250 ext. 375) or Frieda Kay Fall (ext. 276). Applications and instructions may also be obtained at the Museum.

Planned by a committee of high school students with the support of Museum Trustee Mrs. Howard Ahmanson and Deputy Director of Fine Arts Rexford Stead, the festival this year will include entries from areas as far apart as San Pedro and Saugus, as well as participation by the Los Angeles County Department of Parks and Recreation, Los Angeles County Juvenile Hall, Exceptional Children's Foundation, Junior Arts Center at Barnsdall Park and a number of individual County recreation centers and community youth organizations. A special section for art works by elementary-age children and junior high school students will be set up by the student planning committee. Official hours for the festival are 12 noon to 6 p.m. both July 14 and Saturday, July 14 will be primarily for the performing arts, with dance, drama, mime, poetry, singing and music of all types - jazz, rock, chamber, etc. Stages and little theater areas will be arranged at various locations in the park and on the Museum's outdoor plaza, in addition to the Museum's own Leo S. Bing Theater. The best groups and soloists will be selected to perform again the following day.

On Sunday, July 15, art works will be displayed on the fence surrounding the main tar pit lake in Hancock Park and in cases along the main walkway in the park. Visitors will be able to see batik, ceramics, drawings, murals, paintings, photography, stained glass and other works. A panel of young professional artists will choose about 50 works for exhibition in the Museum for a three-week period following the festival.
